

the Ambassadors residence in June. As a result of the evening's activity ICING has been able to support one charity, Kids4Kids, which is helping with self-sufficiency agricultural projects in the Darfur region of Sudan. Sufficient cash was raised from sponsorship and gifts on the night to support an entire village. We hope to show you photographs in due course.

In addition to the cash raised on the night, ICING received various pledges of additional support including a magnificent donation from the Stables of King Abdullah & Sons who have since given SR170,000 to ICING with the proviso that the funds are to be used to fund a specific project for children with Down syndrome.

ICING does not employ any staff, nor does it deduct administration fees of any kind. All of the events are organised by volunteers from the British community and all of the profits generated from Group activities are directed entirely to projects where a small contribution can make a big difference.
